CHANGES AT WASHINGTON PARK.

The reorganization of the Washington Park Club's directorate was completed last night and new officers elected. After by-laws to meet the proposed consolidation of official forces had been adopted, the old board of directors resigned; President Hamill also resigning. Of the proposed new board of seven directors, six were selected, leaving one vacancy yet to fill. The six are:

Lawrence A. Young.
James Howard.
D. Mark Cummings.
William L. Phelps.
Watson J. Ferry.
John F. Morse.

The new board then elected the following officers of the Washington Park Club:

President, Lawrence A. Young.
Vice President, Watson J. Ferry.
Secretary and Treasurer, James Howard.

AT LITTLE ROCK.

With the opening of the Little Rock meeting only three days away, the Arkansas capital is in all the excitement that attends preparations to go a racing and Clinton Park is the scene of active work with the horses. Some good work was done there Tuesday, particulars of which were detailed as follows in a special to the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"The weather was bright and cool and the track fast at Clinton Park this morning. These favorable conditions were taken advantage of by many of the trainers, and some good workouts resulted. Capron and Dramburg, both probable starters in the Turf Congress Stakes on Monday, divided the honors of the morning. Bennett's colt negotiated the distance in 1:44 with Crowhurst up quite handily, while Stanhope's great son of Deceiver worked the mile in exactly the same time, but somewhat more impressively.

"Patry McDermott had the mount on Dramburg and carried his weight. Mr. Stanhope undoubtedly has a magnificent colt in Dramburg. His condition is all that could be desired, and as far as it is possible to observe at this stage of the season, he certainly looks like a formidable contender for the stakes in which he is engaged, especially those early in the racing season. Another good workout was that by Miss Bennett, the Russell filly, of the Bennett stable, who went the half in 49½ seconds. The Sir Dixon colt and the Inspector B. colt of the same stable, worked the half in 50½ seconds. The Sir Dixon, a big bay colt, out of Nina Archer, is named Dick Burgess, and the Inspector B., a strapping bay fellow, out of Rosa Buckden, is named Monas. Paul Miles' Tenny filly, Tennis Girl, is still a trifle sore. But she worked very satisfactorily, being credited with four furlongs in 51½ seconds. Tony Honing was sent a mile in 1:46, and Dutch Comedian worked five-eighths in 1:05. The Light, who is thought to be a very fast mare just now, went six furlongs in 1:16½.

"The late arrivals are resting up from their trip, and none of them has been given a workout yet. The indications now are that there will be eight starters in the Turf Congress Stakes on Monday. These probable starters are: The Conqueror, Shillingburn, Capron, Hilda H., Dramburg, Red Nelson, Online and Red Cross II. Others may also start. Capron seems to be Bennett's best, and the stable will elect to start him in preference to Admiral Schley or El Caney. Pat Civill will try for the stake with Online and Dearing. The Texan may put in his Red Nelson. Miles says that Hilda H. will go to the post and everybody knows that Dramburg is a starter. The question of getting enough horses here to fill the races has now resolved itself into one of finding stall room for all these coming. There will be the largest number of horses here Monday ever assembled at Clinton Park."

TRAINING AT MORRIS PARK.

Unfavorable weather retarded training at the New York tracks to some extent during the past half dozen days, but not wholly. Of operations and incidents at Morris Park, Tuesday morning's Telegraph says:

"The Morris Park course, although not having quite recovered from the late snow fall, was in fairly good shape, and great sets of racers were out on the track all during the morning at exercise. Supt. German had the harrows busy at an early hour, and although the going was a bit soft, the trainers at the course, realizing that the time has come when something must be done, were not at all backward in sending their racers over the Withers mile at good jogging exercise.

"As the season approaches the big course is receiving new arrivals every day. Among the late ones can be mentioned a string of ten of the Chamblett lot of timber toppers from Massachusetts and a lot of three of the G. H. Whitney string from Kentucky.

"The Chamblett contingent, in charge of trainer S. Veitch, are as follows: Semper Ego, 7; Diversion, 6; Mars Chan, 7; Dave S., 6; Linbrook, 4; Catapult, 4; Luman, 4; Armament, 4, and Stamford, 4. This lot, which have been wintered at Reedville, near Boston, have been kept at good exercise all the winter and are as hard as nails and ready to go into strong training work as soon as Mr. Veitch says the word.

"The steeplechase training grounds, just outside the track, have been especially prepared for the schooling of the timber toppers, and they are at liberty to go there every morning and practice. The jumps have all been set and there will be no excuse for the jumpers when the time comes for them to perform.

"Of the Chamblett lot the good performer Diversion looks particularly well. He was let up on last season in the middle of his promising career, and now, after wintering exceptionally well, there is every reason to believe that he will be a racer who will negotiate timber as good as the best that we have ever seen in this country.

"Semper Ego is a fine type of a steeplechaser, and it will be a good one that will take his measure. Old and reliable Mars Chan looks as chipper as a youngster, and can surely be relied on when the game goes on between the flags. Catapult, Linbrook, Luman, Armament and Stamford are comparatively new at the jumping game, but they have been tried over timber and have shown considerable talent for the game.

"The G. H. Whitney string, which is in charge of T. Jones, is as follows: Three-year-old bay colt Specific, by St. Florian—Specialty; two-year-old by Newton—Bitter Sweet, and two-year-old brown colt Prince of Melrose, by Farandole—Orchid.

"The latter is a most presentable youngster, and on looks ought to be a racer. He has been highly tried at his Kentucky home, and trainer Jones is full of confidence in him. Mr. Whitney bred last year's Brooklyn Handicap winner, Banastar, and the fast Rafaeello, and in this youngster he thinks he has racing material equally as good.

"Trainer Thomas Healy, who is to take a string of about a dozen to Aqueduct, faced the sloppy track at an early hour and a half dozen of his youngsters got good half speed breezing work. Among the Healy two-year-olds that were sent over the course were the good looking youngsters by Loyalist—Blue Drees and Beau Ormonde, by Ormonde—Miss Brummel. The stable's bid for Aqueduct honors will be made by Kinnikinnick, Carbuncle, Sparrow Wing, Dear Heart, Randy and a half dozen two-year-olds.

"Kinnikinnick, who has been lately added to the list, never looked better in his life. He is taking his routine exercise in good shape and the trainer thinks he is liable to be a bit prompter at the post than formerly. Veterinary Dentist R. J. Downs was at the stable attending to the teeth of several of the racers, and they will all be in good shape when they are called upon.

"A. J. Joyner's extensive lot were out on the track in three sets and they showed every evidence of being in the right condition for the training work that is soon to begin. Ethelbert, who never looked better, and the three-year-olds Gonfalon, David Garrick, The Chamberlain and Maribert, jogged in the same set and are hard to beat, as far as looks go. A lot of two-year-olds who are to carry colors at Aqueduct trotted and cantered.

"Trainer William Karkick, who intends taking an extensive string to Aqueduct, was quite busy attending to the readying up process under his ample barn at Tenney Villa. The true and tried racers, Kirkwood, Intrusive, Meehanns and others of the older division are as hard as nails and there is little left to be done to fit them. A set of youngsters, which include the handsome filly Cherries, by Tenny—Puffer, got good jogging exercise and are in prime shape to be sent down the line. The whole Karkick string have received every attention during the winter. They have never missed a day at exercise, and he is sure they are as ready to do fast work as any string at the track.

"Trainer James Boden's handicap candidate, Firearm; Okettee, the ladylike looking filly, Donna Henrietta, by Henry of Navarre—Belladonna; Tomath and others got their exercise under the barn and are sure to be ready when wanted.

"George E. Emith's Prestidigitator, the handicap candidate Lothario, and others were out on the track at jogging work.

"J. H. McAvoy's Prince McClurg, Hardy Parade and others got good routine exercise on the track. Mr. McAvoy is in no hurry and has not decided yet whether he will start anything at Aqueduct or not.

"Trainer Osborne, of the Craven string of steeplechasers, had Will Scarlet, King Orloff and others on the track at jogging work.

"The training ground on the outside of the track is much to Mr. Osborne's liking, and his timbertoppers will be schooled over it regularly.

"G. Butler's Huitzilopochtli was sent to schooling work over the practice ground and performed in admirable style."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

A few days ago Imp's home admirers at Chillicothe, O., scraped up $1,000 and sent it to New York for investment on her chances in the four big handicaps, but to their consternation the money was returned with a message to the effect that so much money had been sent in from all over the country to back Imp, that the odds against her had been cut in two in the middle so that it is as low as 3 to 1 for the Metropolitan.

At Memphis Wednesday W. Overton and Streamer from the Schorr forces were sent the circle of the track in 1:44, W. Overton having the better of the argument by a couple of lengths. Elizabeth Klein, a candidate for the

THE CASE OF MR. CASSIDY.

Mr. W. L. Cassidy was ruled off the track by the officials of the St. Louis Fair Association last year. He invoked the aid of the courts to secure reinstatement, but a decision was rendered against him Wednesday. Courts almost always sustain the actions of clubs and kindred organizations in punishing infractions of rules, made and promulgated so that all concerned can have knowledge of their existence and purport. Mr. Cassidy violated a rule that it was his business as a turfman to know and respect and was punished accordingly. Of the outcome of his suit against the Fair Association, the St. Louis Republic of yesterday says:

"Judge Talty, of the St. Louis Circuit Court, gave a weighty and important decision yesterday which nearly concerns the turf and its government. He followed the precedent set by New York courts in such matters, and upheld the right of a racing association to exclude from its premises alleged violators of turf rules. The case was that of Willis L. Cassidy, the St. Louis millionaire turfman, who applied to the court for an order restraining the St. Louis Fair Association, Robert Anli, Joseph A. Murphy and Charles C. Maffitt, its Board of Stewards, from enforcing a ruling denying him admission to its clubhouse and grounds during the season of 1899. Judge Talty's decision upholds the association in the position it assumes. The court's contention is that the defendant is not a public corporation in the sense that all the public has an interest in it; that, after complying with certain conditions, the purpose of which is to save the person affected from damage and loss, it may exclude any patron from its grounds either before or after he has purchased a ticket.

"Judge Talty's decision is of great importance to the turf. In his decision the court intimated that the plaintiff would suffer more injury from being admitted to the grounds during the racing season than from being excluded.

"The order which Mr. Cassidy wished enjoined was made by the Board of Stewards of the St. Louis Fair Association last summer. Mr. Cassidy was one of the biggest bettors on the grounds, and was in the habit of making presents to jockeys and trainers. It was this that got him in trouble with the association. In the fifth race on August 1, jockey Houck had the mount on Parole d'Or, an 8 to 1 shot. Jim was a hot favorite for the event. Mr. Cassidy bet on Jim and handed Houck a ticket on Jim calling for $50 if the horse won. Houck won with Parole d'Or, but the fact that he carried a ticket on Jim got to the ears of the stewards. The boy and Mr. Cassidy were called before them and were charged with violating rules 184 and 190 of the American Racing Rules, which provides, among other things, that any person who 'makes any bet with or on behalf of any jockey, unless on a horse he is riding, shall be ruled off.' Both defendants admitted their guilt and they were dealt with according to the rules.

"The case of Cassidy vs. The Fair Association was similar to that of Riley Grannan vs. The Westchester Racing Association of New York. Grannan was charged with making a present of $500 to a jockey, and on being found guilty of this offense he was banished from all Jockey Club tracks. Grannan applied for an injunction against the Westchester Racing Association, and, though it was granted by one of the lower courts, it was denied in the New York Court of Appeals."

Time, 25, 49, 1:17.
Went to post at 2:30. At post 3 minutes. Start good. It was a driving finish. Tortugas carried Coralais at such a fast pace for the first half that she quit. Banrica appeared like an easy winner at the eighth post but tired, and Tortugas caught her in the final sixteenth winning in the last stride. Marzella showed no speed.
Tortugas, place, 2 to 1; show, out. Banrica, place, 4 to 5; show, out. Coralais, place, 3 to 5; show, out. Marzella, place, 3 to 2; show, out.
